

Shells come in many shapes, sizes, colors, and patterns. Shells are made by soft bodied animals to protect them from predators. An empty shell can be reused by hermit crabs who can't make a shell of their own but still need a home.

*Draw a hermit crab coming out of the empty shells.

Nautilus

Conch shell

Nautilus shell

